In the year 1872, while I was a professor in Chicago Medical College,

Dr. F. B. Brewer

was my teacher in practice. The partnership was dissolved by mutual consent, and I entered into the traveling business with Dr. Price. Respecting the man as I did for his social and business qualities, and for his medical attainments, I have kept watch of him since, and have such a high regard for him, that after suffering a long time with heart trouble, and after several nervous prostration from which I failed to be relieved, although many kind physicians had assisted me in the search of the desired relief, I finally wrote to my old friend and partner, desirous of my assistance. He sent me a sketch of which I have been taking four weeks. I fitted him, as well as those that thought of consulting him, to give this testimonial, which I do unsolicited. I am 64 years old, and have practiced medicine 39 years.

THE BOY LIE,

A few days ago The Gazette made the general assertion that government supplies were cheaper this year than for years past. This has been denied by one or two democratic papers that how:

"See how wool has gone up."

They should certainly know that this statement is a lie. Commissioner Morgan has just purchased in the open market, as he did last year, several thousand pairs of blankets. These blankets are 60 by 70, and weigh eight pounds to the pair. Last year, before the McKinley bill passed, these blankets cost $3.36 a pair; this year though the organs say the average duty is 33 per cent higher and enhances the burdens on the food, clothing, shelter and manufacturing essentials of the people, the same blankets were bought for $3.36 a pair and yet the duty on wool was raised more by the McKinley bill than on almost any other article.

Red flannel which last year cost 26.82 cents per yard was bought this year for 26.4 cents a yard. Women's woolen hose cost $2.75 a dozen last year, and the same this year. Men's wool socks cost $2.28 last year a dozen and $2.23 this year. Woolen mittens cost $2.25 a dozen last year and $2.00 this year. Blue jerseys cost $1.74 last year per yard and $1.65 this year. And yet these papers will continue to declare that the value of all goods has been enhanced by the McKinley tariff bill. They remind readers of the boy who pointed to another standing by and said: "That boy is my brother and that girl is my sister, but they are not brother and sister." No one could guess the answer to that, and finally the boy gave the correct answer, which was "I told a lie." It is hardly probable that these papers will be frank as the boy was, but nevertheless the only answer to what they say is that they told lies, and the proof is positive in the figures that we have given.

THE POOR FARMER.

Farmer C. B. Stickle, of Dane county, is giving the democrats a good many sharp digs. Farmer Stickle knows a joke when he sees it, and he has a deal of fun with the burbons who howl about the "poor, tax-ridden farmer." In his letter which is addressed to the Madison Journal, he says:

The "poor, tax-ridden farmer" at this writing have the handsomest show for winter wheat they have had in a number of years. The rains of the past few weeks have brought it along splendidly. If no accident happens within the next week or two they will harvest an immense crop.

The tobacco farmers have lately discovered that the McKinley tariff has raised the price of tobacco about five cents a pound, and they are just now doing their biggest business in tobacco raising. The weather has been the best for tobacco planting that could be desired, with just rain enough to make the plants grow. One farmer of my acquaintance raised nine acres of tobacco last year, for which he realized the handsome sum of $1,200. This year he expects to obtain at least $1,750 an acre.

"So much for the 'robber tariff.'"

WALL AND ANTI-PROHIBITIONISTS. Boss Wall reads the riot act to the anti-prohibitionists. He says he entertains very little respect for the anti-prohibition society and added that the sooner the society was disbanded the better it will be for the cause.

Mr. Wall seems to be riding a high horse. Perhaps the anti-prohibitionists do not have much respect for Boss Wall. To an unprejudiced observer it is difficult to understand how the disrespect of Wall for the anti-prohibitionists is at all uncomplimentary to them. It is usually a terrible thing to be visited with the disrepect of such a political boss as Mr. Wall is, but there are exceptions to all rules. —Milwaukee News.

California could give hints to London on divorce court customs. In no other city are courts devoted so continuously to the public duty of grinding out social sensations as in London, and the California plan of conducting suits for divorce behind closed doors, with only parties interested, and court officers present, if applied to breach of promise divorce and similar contentions involving the relations of the sexes, would leave a great deal less to blush over.

The effect of the new Illinois usury law will be watched with great interest. We have been so frequently warned that limitation of interest rates would be disastrous; that many people dread agitation of the subject. With a judgment rate of but 5 per cent and a contract rate not exceeding 7 per cent, Illinois will demonstrate the evils, if any, and the benefits, if any, of a strict usury law and low legal rates of interest.

Madison Journal.—The able economic editor of The Madison Democrat has been reading The Janesville Recorder, and, naturally, concludes that the establishment of a pearl button factory at Eau Claire means a boom in the pearl business.

According to the latest ruling laws are made not by the legislature but by the governor. The governor and an enrolling clerk who is not afraid to certify to the omission of desired sections could accomplish a great deal in a very short time.

The courts have used Herr Most unfairly. He ought to have been given a sentence longer than one year. He cannot learn even a penitentiary trade in so short a period. No man in America is no more in need of an honest trade.

ACQUITTED.

Chauncey M. Depew and His Fellow Directors Found Not Guilty.

NEW YORK, June 25.—The jury which has been trying Chauncey M. Depew and other directors of the New York & Haven Railroad Company for causing the death of five persons in the tunnel accident on February 20, by permitting the use of ear stoves in their trains, returned a verdict of not guilty as to all the defendants.

The purpose of the court's ruling was that directors do not actively take part in the details of management, but are servants, and that the only responsible executive officer is the president. "And," said Judge Van Brunt in conclusion, "in accordance with the latest provision of the code, I require the gentlemen of the jury to follow my advice instead of humbly begging them to do so. The jury is requested to find a verdict for all the defendants except Clark."

The jury accordingly found a verdict for the defendants, Chauncey M. Depew, E. H. Trowbridge, William D. Bishop, Nathaniel Wheeler, Henry Robinson, Edward M. Reed, Joseph Park, Henry S. Lee, William Rockefeller and Leverett Braainerd.

The case against Clark was then summed up. Judge Van Brunt in his charge said if the jury considered that the evidence showed that Clark had authorized the dispatching of trains heated with the Baker system he was guilty under the indictment. A general authorization was sufficient to warrant such a verdict. The jury went out at 4:20 o'clock. At 5:50 they came back for instructions. They wanted to know what constituted "guilty knowledge." Judge Van Brunt replied there was no such thing. If Mr. Clark had any knowledge that was all that was necessary. It was not a question of whether defendant were an officer or not—it was a question of individual responsibility. The jury returned at 5:30 with a verdict of not guilty. President Clark was heartily congratulated by his friends and colleagues upon his acquittal.

HE OWNED KEYSTONE STOCK.

The Postmaster General's Signature Found on the Back of His Certificate.

PHILADELPHIA, June 25.—The development of Wednesday in the Keystone stock bank investigation was of a decidedly sensational character. It seems to be established beyond question that Postmaster General John Wanamaker was formerly a stockholder in the Keystone. At the investigation Receiver Yardley produced the stock sub-book and the canceled stock of the bank. It was shown that in 1886 and 1887 John Wanamaker held 4,625 shares of stock of the bank, and he afterwards sold the stock in small blocks. In all seven certificates of Keystone stock were produced by Receiver Yardley, made out in the name of John Wanamaker. Upon the backs of six of these certificates John Wanamaker's name appears, as if indorsed by him at the time of making the transfers. Mr. Wanamaker's brokers, Irving & Toland, appeared before the committee and identified his signature upon the backs of the canceled certificates. An effort was made by Chairman Etting to establish a connection between these 2,625 shares and the 2,516 shares of overissue stock which Mr. Wanamaker says he received from John Lucas when the latter was president of the Keystone, and which were used as collateral in a Reading stock transaction. Mr. Etting could not establish a connection between the two blocks of stock, however. Mr. Wanamaker is in Washington and none of his friends could give any explanation of the certificates.

Death of a California Jurist.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—Charles Halsey, late judge of the superior court of this city and of the county of San Francisco, died Wednesday, aged 80 years. He was a native of Seneca county, New York, and was a son of Congressman Halsey. He came to California in 1850, and was for a time commissioner in the district court.

They Are After McPherson.

ST. LOUIS, June 25.—A warrant has been issued against George McPherson, the society leader whose disappearance caused such a sensation several months ago, charging him with embezzling $2,400 from the mining exchange. McPherson is believed to be in Seattle, Wash.

MR. KENDAL'S STUPIDITY.

The members of the Four Hundred are enjoying a story at the expense of a prominent lady of this city who is famed for her looks. She is a frequent dinner and fax pas. It seems that while the Kendals were playing in this city, Mrs. Kendal was invited to their home by this lady, who thereupon offered her arm, and before she had an opportunity to protest, led her to the adjoining apartment. She was so furious at what she thought was the deception practiced upon her that she was hardly civil to her escort, replying to his polite speeches with monosyllables and addressing most of her remarks to her neighbor on the opposite side of the table.

The jury accordingly found a verdict for the defendants, Chauncey M. Depew, E. H. Trowbridge, William D. Bishop, Nathaniel Wheeler, Henry Robinson, Edward M. Reed, Joseph Park, Henry S. Lee, William Rockefeller and Leverett Braainerd.

Then she sailed away, leaving Mrs. X. in a state of mind that can be better imagined than described.—New York Telegram.

IT Depends on the Liver.

"Is life worth living?" somebody asked, and the facetious reply was, "That depends on the liver." Health and happiness are twined together. If a man's liver is out of order, his whole system is deranged. It suffers from top to toe. This is the time to take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. These efficacious little globules are as much in advance of the old-fashioned, gripping, drastic pills as electric lights are ahead of awick stuck in whale oil.

Good Looks.

Good looks are more than skin deep, depending upon a healthy condition of all the vital organs. If the liver be inactive, you have a bilious look; if your stomach be disordered you have a dyspeptic look, and if your kidneys affected you have a pinched look. Secure good health and you will have good looks. Electric Bitters is the great alternative and tonic; acts directly on these vital organs. Cures pimples, blotches, boils, and gives a good complexion. Sold at W. T. Sherer & Co.'s drug store, 50c per bottle.

A SCROFULOUS BOY

Running Sores Covered His Body and Head, Bones Affected, Cured by Cuticura Remedes.

When six months old, the left hand of our little grandchild began to swell, and had every appearance of a large boil. We poulticed it, but all to no purpose. About five months after, became so bad, that we sent him to Dr. Smith, who formed. He then had two of them on each hand, and as they increased in size, and were more and more in pain, it took less time to break out. They were covered with the under lip, which was very offensive. His head was also affected, and he was suffering a great deal. This was his condition at twenty-two months, when we sent him to the care of his doctor, having died when he was a little more than a year old, of consumption (serofita, of course). He was a fine boy, but did not get well in bed, having no use of his hands, and immediately came to us with CUTICURA REMEDIES, until all freed. One sore after another healed, a bony matter forming in each one of these live, dead ones just as they would grow, and then they would grow over, and were taken out, then they would heal rapidly. One of these ugly formations in present time, when he is 21 months old, having been completely cured, and is now, at the age of six years, a strong and healthy child. May 9, 1888.

My grandson remains perfectly well. No signs of scrofula and no sore.

IOWA DEMOCRATS.

OTTUMWA, Ia., June 25.—At 10:40 a.m. Wednesday the democratic state convention was called to order at the opera house by Charles F. Ulrich, chairman of the state central committee. Walter H. Butler, of Fayette, was chosen temporary chairman. The usual committees were appointed, and a brief recess was taken. On reassembling ex-Congressman J. R. Pusey, of Clark Bluff, was chosen by acclamation as permanent chairman. Prolonged applause greeted his presentation and the salient points of his lengthy address.

Gov. Boies was placed in nomination by C. A. Clark, of Cedar Rapids, and the nomination was seconded from all parts of the house, and he was renominated by acclamation.

After the enthusiasm which greeted the nomination of Gov. Boies had subsided, S. L. Bestow and Mr. C. E. Whiting withdrew, and Mr. Bestow was chosen as the nominee by acclamation. For supreme judge the nominations were G. L. Kinne, of Tama; Judge Banks of Keokuk; E. L. Burton, of Wapello, and W. P. Branigan, of Muscatine. The ballot resulted: Total votes cast, 1,023; necessary to a choice, 517. Kinne, 618½; Branigan, 17½; Burton, 144½; Banks, 76. This settled the business, and on motion of Senator Schmidt the nomination of Judge Kinne was made unanimous. Candidates for superintendents of public instruction were suggested as follows: J. R. Knoepfle, of Allamakee; W. S. Wilson, of O'Brien; O. J. Landers, of Poweshiek; S. F. Fiester, of Bremer. The roll being finally called, J. B. Knoepfle was nominated on the first ballot. The candidates for railroad commissioners were Peter A. Dey, of Johnston county; Michael Gray, of Pocahontas, and D. L. Hotchkiss, of Davis county. Dey was nominated on the first ballot.

"ANTIS" ARE IN TOWN

Saloon Keepers of the State Are In Annual Session.

JANESEVILLE THEIR PLACE OF REST.

M. Dougherty Welcome Them to the City and President Brand in His Residence Points Out the Need of Organization Beloit An Example.

"Ta-ra, ta-ra, ta-ra-rum" went the Bower City band every half hour this morning.

Every time they heard it Supervisor Dougherty and Charles Horn headed a perspiring band of the faithful toward the depot.

They never came back alone.

Each train brought in body of delegates to the anti-prohibition association. The delegates were dusty and worn and thirsty, but all this had been provided for.

No One Asked For Water.

In Hibernia hall two men with sleeves rolled up were handing beer glasses faster than Forepaugh's jugglers handled balls. Beer flowed like water, and the price of beverages was the same. Up to four o'clock this afternoon, however, very few inquiries for water had been made.

Was Plenty to Eat.

Besides liquid refreshment there was a cold lunch in the dressing room that met with great favor. It was served by Frank Parker, and the tables were constantly replenished.

The Milwaukee train was late, and did not arrive until noon. The delegation from the Cream City was headed by President Brandt and Secretary Seligman, and was forty-five strong. It was divided into three bodies, representing the east, south and west side societies.

Many From Other Cities.

Watertown delegates came at 12:20 p.m., and were under the leadership of Major Charles W. Kaempf, with William Buening as secretary. From that time until the convention opened, the procession leading to the hall was unbroken.

The delegates were a jolly lot of men and all in good spirits, but in the hall smiles and laughter were the exception, and conversation earnest and low indicated that the convention was gathered for the transaction of serious business.

It was half-past two o'clock before the convention was formally called to order by President Brandt, who introduced Mr. Dougherty as the president of the Janesville branch of the Anti-Prohibition association.

Welcomed by Mr. Dougherty.

Mr. Dougherty stated that J. B. Doe was to have welcomed the delegates, as a representative of Janesville, but that he had been unexpectedly called from the city on legal business.

In his absence Mr. Dougherty extended a welcome to the delegates in behalf of the city of Janesville, and assured them that our citizens would do all in their power toward making their stay in our city pleasant.

President Brand responded in behalf of the organization. Proceeding with his address, he congratulated the working board of directors for their enthusiasm and harmonizing work during the year. The president was glad to welcome so many delegates, though he expected to have had the pleasure of welcoming more. He knew that the saloon business had more enemies than any other business, but that he could prove it was as legitimate as any business.

Beloit An Example.

The organization of the society must be sustained. The organization had been discontinued in Beloit and Sparta, and they were both now strictly prohibition. He welcomed the large number of delegates, and said that they realized the necessity of the organization even under a democratic administration. "We have twenty-two democrats on the list," he said, "who were the cause of the local option law not being repealed last winter. If the democrats cannot repeal this law when they are in the majority look out for them in the minority."

Wanted the Patrol Called Out.

On motion of Joseph Dryston a committee of five on credentials was appointed. As such committee Delegates Oetterman, of Janesville, Echner, of Milwaukee, Casey, of Janesville, Bunting, of Watertown, and Rosenboff, of Prairie du Chien, were named.

The chair ruled a motion to send a patrol after the absent members of the Milwaukee delegation, out of order.

A recess of twenty minutes was then taken to give the committee on credentials a chance to pass on the delegate.

About two hundred delegates are in attendance at this afternoon's session. Nearly a hundred more are expected to-night or in the morning.

CAN'T THE DOGS BE KILLED?

The New State Law Says They Are All "Domestic Animals."

The dog question is likely to come up in the council at the next meeting, which is calendarized for Monday evening.

There are at present hundreds of worthless curs running in the streets, and it is suggested that some steps be taken to rid the city of as many as possible by instructing the marshal to enforce the dog ordinance.

The late legislature passed a law declaring a dog to be a domestic animal. This was passed in the interest of those who own fine hunting dogs, mastiffs, or in fact any "domestic" animal, that in case the animal was destroyed the owner can bring action and recover to the maximum amount of $50, provided he can prove his animal was worth that sum.

Just what alterations will have to be made in the city charter so as to comply with the state law, is not yet known, as the city attorney has not informed the common council.

One thing is certain, a general slaughter of worthless curs should be ordered and enforced at once, and if the dog is a domestic animal, and is entitled to the usual respect given to that class, the "cow ordinance" should be amended at once, and the word "dog" inserted after the word "cow". There is no reason why a dog should be granted privileges denied the cow.

Reports are frequent of children being bitten by some ferocious dog in the street, yet according to the new law, the dog is protected as a domestic animal, and is allowed to roam at will in the public thoroughfares.

COMMENCEMENT AT ST. JOSEPH'S.

Interesting Exercises By the Pupils This Afternoon.

The commencement exercises of St. Joseph's parochial school were held this afternoon at the school room. An excellent programme, consisting of music, recitations, essays, and dialogues, was rendered by the pupils in an entertaining manner, there being a large number of interested spectators present to listen to the exercises. Those who took part in rendering the programme were the Misses Mary and Maggie Dunn, Sophie Weisend, Aggie Hines, Fannie Ennis, Mary Dugan, Margaret Looby, Catharine Dolan, Catharine Isabella Joyce, Maria Mc Clelland, Kate Mackin, Madge Leahy, Kate McCaffrey, besides many others, pupils of the school whose names did not appear on the printed programme. All did exceedingly well, and reflected credit on the able manner in which the school has been conducted.

LAWS BUILDING MADE EASY.

An Incident in the Year 1900 That is of Current Interest.

[Time 1900—Place, anywhere in Wisconsin.]

First Railroad Lobbyist—You see, when we had that accident liability law passed, we forgot to put in a clause making $750 the highest sum the courts could award to a railroad employee injured while at work.

Second Railroad Lobbyist—But, I see that section is in the law now. How did you fix it?

First Railroad Lobbyist—Oh, we drafted a section that suited us, and got the enrolling clerk to swear it had been omitted from the original bill.

The governor is a stockholder in our road, you know, so we got him to sign it, and that's all there was to it. That Janesville precedent nine or ten years ago has simplified law making very much.

The president read the following letter:

"CHICAGO, Ill., June 22.—President E. D. Eaton: I have a letter from you dated June 18, 1891, in which you give very good reasons why Beloit college should have a scientific hall and fine apparatus. You also say that said hall will cost $60,000 and that you have now in sight $7,000 as an endowment. I will now close the trade and will build Science hall and have it ready September 1st, 1892. I accept the plans and amount to be expended. Truly,

D. K. PEARSON.

"It is safe to say that the old First church never again will witness such a scene as followed. President Eaton was quite dumbfounded and could not maintain his dignity because everybody was wild. The college yell was forgotten and everyone cheered and yelled. When the excitement, which lasted fully ten minutes calmed down, the exercises were closed with prayer.
